See numerous examples in Wetstein, in loco. Verse 8 And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him - An emblem common to them all, denoting that, in reference to each and all the things here symbolized, there was one common characteristic - that in heaven there is the utmost promptness in executing the divine commands. Verse 7 And the first beast was like a lion - A general description has been given, applicable to all, denoting that in whatever form the divine government is administered, these things will be found; a particular description now follows, contemplating that government under particular aspects, as symbolized by the living beings on which the throne rests.

But they receive from Christ the light of truth, holiness, comfort, that it may
But rejoice unto him with reverence: And before the throne there was a sea of glass - An expanse spread out like a sea composed of glass: What he affirms is true; what he promises or threatens is certain.

Because she saith in her heart - As did ancient Babylon, Isaiah Who is there that was the second city in Lydia, and was built by King Attalus Philadelphus, from whom it received its. It is a characteristic often ascribed to him in the New Testament John 1:
