Any idea, plan, or purpose may be placed in the mind through repetition of thought. Affirmations don't make something happen; they make something welcome.

The Constitution had provided that all the public functionaries of the Union. Not only the studying and writing of history but also the honoring of it both represent affirmations of a certain defiant faith a desperate, unreasoning faith, if you will but faith nevertheless in the endurance of this threatened world faith in the total essentiality of historical continuity. The emancipation of women is practically the greatest egoistic movement of the nineteenth century, and the most intense affirmation of the right of the self that history has yet seen. We see things as we are. Hardly any Christians have been taught that - they think "Christ" is Jesus's last. There is more to joy than looking only for affirmation; refusing to be challenged is the only bigotry.
